And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

This week's column is being devoted to a reprint from James Roberts' "Drifting Sands" in the Sept. 4 issue of the Andrews County News that is making the rounds of the weekly papers. We have read variations of this type of problem, but nothing that tops this one.

Before fall is official and vacation-time becomes merely a collection of memories, we've simply got to pass along a hilarious vacation story about an Andrews couple.

It's true so we won't mention any names.

This particular couple had schemed and planned for most of the year to make this summer's vacation a memorable one, especially since it involved the use of a rented camper.

It was to be a "different" vacation even though it involved a visit — for the first time in three years — to her folks in the western edge of Tennessee. The couple's children were left with his parents, the camper packed, the car loaded, and the pair set sail for Tennessee.

Shortly after the noon stop the right rear tire of the camper blew out — and a couple of hours were lost in the hot, broiling sun as he toiled to change tires with make-do tools.

But nothing was going to spoil their trip — he wiped the sweat from the steaming brow, and set sail again for Tennessee. And they made good time. . . so much so, that after supper, he felt so good that he believed he'd make a few more miles before calling in quits for the day.

At a coffee break about ten p. m. his wife decided she'd had enough for one day and retired to the camper — he vowed more miles before turning in.

And he did — over a hundred miles of steady, hard driving — but finally he could stay awake no longer and pulled the car trailer into a secluded spot surrounded by towering trees, the land carpeted with deep soft grass.

He entered the camper quietly so as to not disturb his sleeping wife, quickly shed his clothes, decided to step outside for one last smoke . . . but once outside, car lights from passing cars illuminated his state of undress, and he retreated deeper into the heavy underbrush.

In the camper, his wife awoke. Refreshed, she decided on the spur of the moment to surprise her sleeping husband. She dressed, quickly and quietly in the dark so as to not awaken her husband and walked around the left side of the camper to the auto . . . and off she sped with the car and the trailer, unwittingly leaving behind a shoutin', whistlin', startled husband clad only in his BVD's.

At first, he surmised that his wife would soon discover her error and return for him . . . but as a long hour passed and no wife, car, or camper returned, he grew desperate.

Timidly, he tried to flag a car only to lose his nerve at the last moment and retreat behind a tree as the car lights approached. This concern over his dress — or undress — lasted for well over an hour. Creep forward — then retreat. Out again, and then retreat at the last minute.

Finally, in desperation, he stepped boldly out to the edge of the highway, flagged excitedly at a passing car, and was promptly carried into town and the nearest police station by an understanding, sympathetic elderly couple.

The police were just as sympathetic. The highway patrol was contacted and an alert given to stop his wife — and the patrol volunteered to carry the still-undressed husband to his wife, car, camper — and clothes.

Sure enough, the wife was stopped 93 miles down the highway. And shortly before dawn, the husband and a reunion with his perplexed wife — and his clothes.

He hastily threw on his pants and shirt, thanked the patrolmen profusely, had a few short words with his wife, and quickly drove to the nearest town for breakfast.

All though the coffee, pancakes, and bacon and eggs, the wife was apologetic to the still-humiliated and mortified husband. By the time the last refill was made on the coffee, the two were on fairly good speaking terms. Earlier, during a more

County to Join Area Council of Governments

Jones County Commissioners Monday approved joining the Area Council of Governments, composed of representatives of 18 counties in West Texas.

The action followed an open hearing at which time the organization was explained to mayors, school superintendents and officials of other political subdivisions of the county.

County Judge Leon Thurman explained that organization is made necessary by requirements of the federal government before participation can be had in a number of federal aid programs.

The judge explained further that a county must be a member before other groups in the county can join. He read the constitution and by-laws and told how the organization would be composed of one representative from each county and representatives from the other subdivisions, such as school districts on an area basis.

These representatives from the overall committee which will meet once a year after the organization is perfected. One of the first tasks of the large committee is to name an executive committee which will, in turn, name the officers.

Officers and executive committee will meet once a month.

Cost of membership by the county will be about $600 — based on three cents per each person in the county. Cost to cities the size of those in the county and to schools, water districts and hospital districts will be $25 per year.

General opinion of those present at the meeting was that although this appeared to be encroachment of the federal government, there appeared to be no alternative. Foster Cook, Hamlin school superintendent, said it was his understanding that all school programs eventually would come through this area organization.

J. E. Brown of Neinda said that they have been told that unless the county is a member of this group or has a county planning committee, the Neinda Water District can not qualify for a federal grant and loan to build their water system.

Vernor Lovvorn represented the Stamford School District at the meeting. Jurgie Thurman said he had received a telephone call from Woodie Beene, new superintendent who is still in Canadian, urging that the county become a member of the organization.

MRS. E. M. WILSON . . . gets lifetime membership

B&PW Club Awards Mrs. Wilson With Lifetime Membership

The Business and Professional Women's Club held the first dinner meeting of the year at the primary cafeteria Tuesday evening.

Wilson, first President of the Club, who served from date of organization in 1951 to 1953, was given a lifetime membership in the club, together with a silver pin from District Seven of which Hamlin is a member. She also served two years as District Director and has been a most active member until recent months.

Mrs. Donald Young, guest of the Club, gave a most informative history of Mrs. Wilson's activities since moving to Hamlin many years ago.

Two Students Attend Student Council Meeting

Helen Moore and Reba Jackson represented the Hamlin High School Student Council at a district planning meeting Tuesday in Abilene. The meeting was held in Wyatt's Cafeteria in Westgate.

Plans for the Oilbelt District Student Council Workshop, which will be held in November at Abilene High School, were discussed. The Hamlin council will lead a group discussion on parliamentary procedure at the workshop.

The Hamlin group also announced its plans to run for the vice presidency of the Oilbelt District Student Council Association. The election will be held during the workshop.

Milburn Wink, local vocational agriculture teacher who sponsors the student council, accompanied the group to Abilene.

BRIDGE WINNERS

Mrs. W. O. Willbanks and Harvey Elkins were first place winners at the Tuesday evening meeting of the Hamlin Duplicate Bridge Club. Mrs. W. Z. Vaden and Mrs. Nat Wash of Stamford were second and Mr. and Mrs. Ray Sonnenburg were third.

Pipers to Journey to Fort Worth Sat. to Play Nolan

The Pied Pipers will be trying to overcome their 8-0 loss at the hand of the Rotan Yellowhammers as they take to the road Saturday night to play Nolan in Fort Worth. The teams will play at 8 p. m. at Trinity Field.

The Nolan Vikings are members of the Northern District of the Texas Catholic Inter-scholastic League and lost to Diamond Hill of Class 4-A last Friday, 6-0.

General admission tickets are now on sale at the high school for the Nolan game. When purchased here adult general admission is $1.00 and student tickets are 50 cents. Purchased at the gate the prices will be $1.25 and $1.00.

Trinity Field is located just south of the Will Rogers Memorial Coliseum in Fort Worth in Trinity Park.

Coach Joe Youngblood said Wednesday that all of his injured boys have returned to practice and he expects them to be ready for action Saturday night. He expects Larry McCoy to be ready to go at fullback and will rotate Sammy Ferguson, Joe Adams and Philip Simpson at the two running back positions with Paul Long at quarterback.

In talking about last week's loss to Rotan, Youngblood told the Booster Club Monday night that he was well pleased with the way the boys played in spite of having so many to miss the game. He said that although the boys made a number of mistakes he thought most of this was because five boys were playing in new positions.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Smith and Richard from Clifton were weekend visitors in the home of Mr. and Mrs. Leldon Clifton.

The Pipers will leave for Fort Worth at 8 a. m. Sat. and will stay at the Holiday Inn, Mid-Town. They will return Sunday morning, arriving back here about noon.

The Vikings have four seniors and one junior back from last years starters. Top rated players for the Vikings is senior quarterback Chris Brucker who was a running back last year. He is also highly rated in his defensive linebacker position. Larry Morton is strong on defense at his halfback spot.

Probable offensive starters for the Vikings will be Brucker, 173 pounds, at quarterback; Glen Duncan, 170 pounds, at fullback; Vernon Evans, 171 pounds, at tailback; and Pat Gallagher, 141 pounds, at wingback.

John Howard Jr. to Head Local Salvation Army Fund Drive

John Howard Jr. will head the annual Salvation Army campaign in 1966, according to Floyd Clifton, chairman of the local Service Unit.

The campaign is set to get underway Sept. 16, with a kick-off breakfast at the cafe on the Stamford Highway, 151 E. Lake Drive. The goal has been set at $750.00.

Howard has named the following captains for the effort: Mrs. Kenneth Riddle, Wesley Nail, David Casey, Mrs. W. O. Willbanks, Mrs. Garland Preston, Glen Williams, and 2 from the Jaycees.

The local volunteer Service Unit maintains a local bank account and gives immediate aid to those in need of help with groceries, meals, lodging, transportation and any emergency need. In addition to Chairman Clifton, this volunteer unit includes: Wesley Nail, Bob Craig, Joe A. Hudspeth, and Mrs. W. W. Wallace.

The local Unit also cooperates with the state-wide welfare services of the Salvation Army to make possible a program of camping, disaster relief, rehabilitation centers, homes and hospitals for unwed mothers, aid to parolees and their families, and others.

A move to worship GOD in His HOUSE is a

MOVE in the RIGHT DIRECTION

To attend Church is the first step in finding God.
To attend regularly is to continue in the right direction, and gives one an opportunity to understand God's will in his life. Now is the time to make your move. Choose the way that will lead you to God.
Attend Church Sunday.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church
for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family.
Beyond that, however, every person should uphold
and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

PIPER PATTERN—
Robert Moore to Head New Student Council Officers

By Tommy Oliver
Helen Moore
Beth Craig

The bewildered look is now disappearing from the faces of the freshmen, and the first-year typing classes have picked up their pace from a beginner's peck to a more professional tap.

"Como esta usted?" seems to be on the lips of all the first-year Spanish students as they are now beginning to speak Spanish in simple sentences and short conversations.

What was that noise last Thursday night in the gym? Yes, you guessed it — that was our high school band putting in their first of many long hours working up their half-time performance. The heavy rains had stopped the band from marching on the football field, but the rains did not stop the Marching Green. Into the gym the band went and with a "tweep, tweep" from Margaret Johnson, the band went through its half-time show.

Robert Moore heads the list of new officers for the Student Council, with Randy Smith as vice president. Other officers are Helen Moore, treasurer; Margaret Johnson, secretary; and Reba Jackson, reporter. Mr. Milburn Wink is sponsor.

The annual staff has had good results from its campaign to sell ads to the local merchants. Annual sales for the 1967 Piper are to begin this Thursday.

School pictures will be taken on Thursday by Blackstock of Stamford.

Our welcome this week is to Janice Hardaway and Mark Jones. Interest should pick up in the First Methodist Church. Janice, a five-foot-six brunette is a part of the new pastor's family. Music and swimming are her hobbies.

Mark Jones is a tall, brown-eyed boy with blond hair and an interest in working on cars. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jones, are employed by Bell Telephone Company at Abilene. Mark, a transfer from Abilene High, finds he likes a smaller school because of its friendly atmosphere.

...Mr. and Mrs. Bob Craig attended the annual Ad Meet of the Texas Press Association held in Kerrville. Craig is a member of the board of the TPA and attended the board meeting Friday morning. Ace Reid, creator of Cow Pokes, was host for a barbecue Friday evening. Some 250 members and wives attended the ad meeting and were guests at Camp Rio Vista, a boys camp, for a barbecue. Following a guided tour of the Y-O Ranch Sunday a western meal was served at ranch headquarters.

One-fourth of gasoline taxes is used for public education, balance for roads.

FAIRVIEW NEWS...

By Mrs. Elmer Joiner
If you have been wondering what became of the Fairview News the past two issues of the paper, here we are back again. Spent ten days in the hospital, had surgery, which after a certain age, isn't the funniest thing in the world, but do believe I am going to make it back into the world of reality again.

When you have trained your ears to listen for news, you hear things that other people do not notice, so that first few days of being so sick and not caring what happened just so I got to feeling better, it seemed I heard more news than I did. Knowing I could not report it I couldn't help noticing how many things were going on and now that I am ready to write again, don't have much to tell. Could tell you all about my operation and all of my aches and pains, but have learned a long time ago that is the most boring news the other fellow can hear, no matter how interesting it is to you.

It seems the most talked about subject right now is all of the rain we have been having. It has been a long time since we have had a late summer like it, the only thing real good about it is the cool weather, such wonderful sleeping nights and cool days, but when the sun does venture out it is a beautiful sight. Weeds are growing by leaps and bounds every day. They do not have to have sunshine to grow, every where you look they are getting bigger and bigger.

Mrs. Woodrow Goodwin spent from Friday until Wednesday, which was Sept. 2 till 7, in the Hendrick Hospital in Abilene, with a bladder infection. She is doing fairly well but will have to go back for six weeks for treatments.

Rev. and Mrs. Babb visited last Thursday night with the Goodwins and Joiners. Makes it hard on them for so many of their members to be ill, for they really believe in seeing after their little flock.

We learned that Rev. Redden resigned the Tuxedo church, his last Sunday being Sept. 4. They, like most of the rural churches, have lost most of the people that once lived around so their membership is very low. They have not quit. If they can get a pastor they are going to keep on as long as possible. We know their feelings, it is so heart-breaking to close the doors to a church you have loved and worshiped in so long, especially one that used to be a strong Baptist Church.

Bids, Legals P

The City Of Hamlin, Texas

Mr. and Mrs. Henry went to Rule, Sunday after church, to eat lunch with a sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Sue Henry, who is to have surgery real soon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Ray, Anson, visited in our home Friday night. They had both bad and good news to report from their family. Mrs. I. B. Ray had been in the Anson Hospital, having trouble with a heart ailment, was better but with a definite order to "slow down", which is hard on anyone that enjoys going and doing things that she does. They told of his sister, Mrs. Lois Hampton, being so much better recently. She had quite a lot of trouble with her bad leg, but that had cleared up and she is feeling much better in every way.

Our sympathy goes to the family of Mrs. Harris Feagan, who passed away last weekend. Having lived next door neighbors to them in the Neinda vicinity, for fifteen years, we felt a personal loss of an old and dear friend.

It seems that Bryce Fowler, Hamlin, was a visitor in Sunday School, coming with his cousin, Tommy Gabriel.

Rev. and Mrs. Babb were Sunday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Bowen, of the Tuxedo community, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ford carried their daughter, Nancy, to Denton, over the weekend where she will continue in her studies there.

Henry Kee, of Lubbock, stopped by Sunday afternoon, for a visit with the Elmer Joiners, on his way to Tye for a transport load of gasoline, which he hauls to Lubbock. He reports his wife doing as well as could be, after having surgery for gall stones, on Aug. 24. Since she had serious surgery only in February, this made it hard, but she is doing well, so looks like she has another operation licked.

Although it has been two weeks, we still want to report on the death of Thomas Moss, of Anson, who was a nephew of Fred Rosenbaum. Mr. Moss had been an invalid since being injured in a freak accident in the Anson post office some time ago.

Just wish to say in ending that I wish to extend my heartfelt thanks to all of my friends that were so nice to remember me with cards, visits, and other showing of friendship, when I was in the hospital and since coming home. When you are ill that is all you have to cling to is loved ones and friends, and they mean so much, makes you so ashamed of how negligent you have been, but hoping to do better.

Texas Ranger Museum Being Planned

Austin — The Texas Department of Public Safety is interested in securing authentic objects used by former Texas Rangers at any period in history to be permanently placed in a public museum being developed at Department Headquarters in Austin.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., DPS Director and Chief of the Texas Rangers, asked anyone interested in contributing such items as guns, knives, belts, badges, spurs or any other authentic Ranger items not completely deteriorated, to write him at Box 4087, NAS, Austin, Texas 78751.

"We are attempting to preserve for posterity in this museum a top-flight collection of Ranger mementos to symbolize the glorious tradition of the oldest police force on the North American continent with statewide jurisdiction," Garrison said.

"We feel that this museum can provide an invaluable service for the State of Texas by commemorating for present and future generations the historic bravery of the Texas Rangers in preserving law and order and protecting the people of Texas from frontier days through the space age."

Garrison said the museum is to be established at a central location in the Department of Public Safety Headquarters and will be opened for public viewing upon its completion, the date of which has not yet been determined.

"We hope we will be able to obtain from public-spirited Texans a collection of Ranger paraphernalia that will become one of the most out-

AND

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin — While most of the state welcomed the touch of cool rains last week, Texas Water Development Board lost all hopes of completing the Texas Water Plan by the time the Legislature opens January 10.

Board will take from four months to a year before it acts on adoption of the preliminary Texas Water Plan due to the scores of suggestions received from a series of river basin hearings.

All suggestions must be screened even before the Board can refer the plan to Texas Water Rights Commission for a public hearing on Water Rights involved.

A panel of five consultants, headed by Joe M. Kilgore, has gone over a list of proposed studies prepared by the Board's planning staff. The panel will present their suggestions to the Board at a meeting on September 19. Mainly, these will cover which studies can be made within the money available to the agency during the fiscal year.

Another water study by the Development Board, to determine the occurrence and quality of underground water in Shackelford County, will begin in mid-September, Executive Director Joe G. Moore announced.

Richard Preston, a water development board geologist, will conduct the study, which will begin with an inventory and sampling of all domestic, municipal, livestock, irrigation

and industrial wells in the county.

Study will then move on to the collection and compilation of data regarding depth, distribution and quality of underground water. Surface and shallow subsurface rock formations will also be examined as an aid in determining the depth and mode of occurrence of ground water requiring surface casing protection in oil and gas drilling operations.

Texas Water Rights Commission has approved an amendment to the permit held by Trinity River Authority and the City of Houston which would nearly triple the storage capacity of the proposed Wallisville Reservoir. But another public hearing will be called to reconsider the application, if the federal government does not confirm its participation within a year.

More Money — Mounting demands of higher education in Texas seem certain to force a tax increase by the Legislature which meets in January.

Budget requests for the 22 state colleges are almost doubled those of the current two years, in large part because of a need for "catching up". Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, says that the previous practice of providing money based on past enrollments just won't work. Cash should be provided for the 22 state colleges and the 34 junior colleges on the basis of what their enrollments will be, instead of what they were.

Junior colleges, fast growing as they are, will be some $16-

000,000 short of operating money during the current two years. It will take $100,000,000 to put senior college appropriations on a current basis.

Prospects for a surplus in the state treasury of $75-$80, 000,000 have led to talk of increasing college tuition and fees, so students would pay more of the cost.

Appointments — Governor Connally appointed Billy Gene Compton, senior Amerillo corporation court judge, district attorney for Potter and Armstrong Counties. He is a native of Borger and attended Pampa schools. Compton replaces Dee Miller, who resigned to campaign for Congressional seat left open when U. S. Rep. Walter Rodgers of Pampa decided not to run again.

Dr. Luther L. Bailey was named project director by State Interagency Policy Board, appointed by the governor to conduct statewide planning for vocational rehabilitation.

Connally named Maj. Gen. Harley B. West of Dallas to command the Texas State Guard.

George Campbell Heads Grand Jury

George E. Campbell of Hamlin is foreman of the grand jury in 104th District Court at Anson. The jury was sworn in Thursday by Judge Ben Charlie Chapman, sitting for Judge Owen Thomas.

Others on the jury are: Mrs. Norman Sloan, Hawley; Luis Ramirez, Anson; Mrs. John Youngquist, Rt. 2, Stamford; Vada Rubick, Anson; Albert Evans, Rt. 1, Merkel; Mrs. Frankie Cassle, Hamlin; P. B. Middlebrook, Jr., Anson; Mrs. H. H. Windham; Robert Horn, Stamford; Jackie W. Williams, Rt. 1, Hamlin, and Mrs. W. J. Byrd, Rt. 1, Avoca.

SYLVESTER NEWS...

By Mrs. R. M. Babb

My, the words one hears now is, do you think it will ever stop raining? Now really it won't be long before they Pursley and Mr. and Mrs. Horner Pursley drove to Andrews last Monday to visit Pete Pursley and wife Annie, who is quite ill.

Oh, by the way have you seen the Homer Pursley's new Chevrolet? Pretty, huh?

Mrs. W. B. Brown and myself attended the Postal Meeting at Wyatt's in Abilene last Saturday night and gained knowledge on some postal problems. Mr. Jack Staples, Inspector in Charge in Ft. Worth spoke and answered questions. Miss Lula Hassey of Tye went with us.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Self have moved to Carrollton near Stephenville so Bobby can attend Tarleton College in Stephenville. Tommy and Gloria and daughter are living in the Self home here.

Our young people are beginning to start college again. Connie Beck, Susan Scott are to attend Texas Tech in Lubbock. John Hardwick will attend McMurry in Abilene, Lee Lanning will return to A. M. in College Station.

Mr. J. E. Woodson is spending a few days with his daughter, Ruth Brown.

We were sorry to learn of the death of the grandson of Loyce Smith, the Smiths lived here many years.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Elliott of Sweetwater visited in the Med Herron home this past week.

The Woodford Pursleys drove to Big Spring over the GIFT TO JUNIOR HIGH TEAMS — An anonymous out of state football fan of the junior high football teams presented a bright green wagon to the teams Monday at school. Tara Colley made the presentation in the donor's behalf.

Neinda Philosopher Claims He's Figured Out How to Make Both Sides Happy in Football

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on Route 1 is out of his field this week, but that's his problem.

Dear editor:

Since a man can't spend all his thinking time thinking about international problems, and since every newspaper I've picked up out here lately has been devoting more and more space to the new football season, from high school through college to the professionals, I have returned to a problem I've been working on for several years now.

It is: how can football be arranged so, after a game, everybody on both sides comes away happy? Like it is now out of the thousands of games played every weekend, fifty percent of the people always leave the stadium sad, except in a case of a tie. No game, like no politician, can last if it can't make more than half the people happy.

My friends in town who are experts on the game say it can't be done, that there's no way for both sides to win, but I can't imagine a Great Society where only half the people come away from any event week after week happy. Who wants to settle for just 50 percent of a Great Society? Therefore I have devoted considerable thought to this problem the last few days and while I haven't quite worked out a system where all unhappiness will be eliminated, I have cut it down to only 10 percent.

Like it is now, the average team plays 10 games, one a week for 10 weeks, with 50 percent of the fans being saddened every week. I can cut this to 10 percent.

It's simple. Don't have any winners or losers every week. Wait till the end of the season. Meanwhile keep running scores. At the end of the 10 weeks, add up the scores, and the teams with the most total points wins. All the tears are thus put in one bucket. Not scattered out over the whole season. If some team beat you this week by 6 points, you figure on beating the next team by 12, and thus getting back in the running. You can see how this will improve scoring.

I am glad to make this contribution, and will now devote my thoughts to other problems. As a matter of fact, I have settled the Viet Nam problem several times, but the people over there don't seem to pay any attention to it.

Yours faithfully,

heated part of the conversation, she had noticed that in his haste to put on his trousers he had failed to zip everything shut. She called his attention to the fact and he, in an offhand, abstract manner, zipped the zipper — and unnoticed, also zipped in a part of the table cloth.

As the couple arose to leave he turned — and promptly jerked the table cloth and all the dishes off the table.

Embarrassing minutes later, the couple piled into their car — and he promptly turned the car, camper, and wife toward Andrews with the words:

"Any vacation that starts out like this one can't possibly be any good . . . we're going home before someone gets killed."

NEWS AND VIEWS . . .

And What Have You

By BOB CRAIG

This week's column is being devoted to a reprint from James Roberts' "Drifting Sands" in the Sept. 4 issue of the Andrews County News that is making the rounds of the weekly papers. We have read variations of this type of problem, but nothing that tops this one.

Before fall is official and vacation-time becomes merely a collection of memories, we've simply got to pass along a hilarious vacation story about an Andrews couple.

It's true so we won't mention any names.

This particular couple had schemed and planned for most of the year to make this summer's vacation a memorable one, especially since it involved the use of a rented camper.

It was to be a "different" vacation even though it involved a visit — for the first time in three years — to her folks in the western edge of Tennessee. The couple's children were left with his parents, the camper packed, the car loaded, and the pair set sail for Tennessee.

Shortly after the noon stop the right rear tire of the camper blew out — and a couple of hours were lost in the hot, broiling sun as he toiled to change tires with make-do tools.

But nothing was going to spoil their trip — he wiped the sweat from the steaming brow, and set sail again for Tennessee. And they made good time . . . so much so, that after supper, he felt so good that he believed he'd make a few more miles before calling in quits for the day.

At a coffee break about ten p. m. his wife decided she'd had enough for one day and retired to the camper — he vowed more miles before turning in.

And he did — over a hundred miles of steady, hard driving — but finally he could stay awake no longer and pulled the car trailer into a secluded spot surrounded by towering trees, the land carpeted with deep soft grass.

He entered the camper quietly so as to not disturb his sleeping wife, quickly shed his clothes, decided to step outside for one last smoke . . . but once outside, car lights from passing cars illuminated his state of undress, and he retreated deeper into the heavy underbrush.

In the camper, his wife awoke. Refreshed, she decided on the spur of the moment to surprise her sleeping husband. She dressed, quickly and quietly in the dark so as to not awaken her husband and walked around the left side of the camper to the auto . . . and off she sped with the car and the trailer, unwittingly leaving behind a shoutin', whistlin', startled husband clad only in his BVD's.

At first, he surmised that his wife would soon discover her error and return for him . . . but as a long hour passed and no wife, car, or camper returned, he grew desperate.

Timidly, he tried to flag a car only to lose his nerve at the last moment and retreat behind a tree as the car lights approached. This concern over his dress — or undress — lasted for well over an hour. Creep forward — then retreat. Out again, and then retreat at the last minute.

Finally, in desperation, he stepped boldly out to the edge of the highway, flagged excitedly at a passing car, and was promptly carried into town and the nearest police station by an understanding, sympathetic elderly couple.

The police were just as sympathetic. The highway patrol was contacted and an alert given to stop his wife — and the patrol volunteered to carry the still-undressed husband to his wife, car, camper — and clothes.

Sure enough, the wife was stopped 93 miles down the highway. And shortly before dawn, the husband and a reunion with his perplexed wife — and his clothes.

He hastily threw on his pants and shirt, thanked the patrolmen profusely, had a few short words with his wife, and quickly drove to the nearest town for breakfast.

All though the coffee, pancakes, and bacon and eggs, the wife was apologetic to the still-humiliated and mortified husband. By the time the last refill was made on the coffee, the two were on fairly good speaking terms. Earlier, during a more

County to Join Area Council of Governments

Jones County Commissioners Monday approved joining the Area Council of Governments, composed of representatives of 18 counties in West Texas.

The action followed an open hearing at which time the organization was explained to mayors, school superintendents and officials of other political subdivisions of the county.

County Judge Leon Thurman explained that organization is made necessary by requirements of the federal government before participation can be had in a number of federal aid programs.

The judge explained further that a county must be a member before other groups in the county can join. He read the constitution and by-laws and told how the organization would be composed of one representative from each county and representatives from the other subdivisions, such as school districts on an area basis.

These representatives from the overall committee which will meet once a year after the organization is perfected. One of the first tasks of the large committee is to name an executive committee which will, in turn, name the officers.

Officers and executive committee will meet once a month.

Cost of membership by the county will be about $600—based on three cents per each person in the county. Cost to cities the size of those in the county and to schools, water districts and hospital districts will be $25 per year.

General opinion of those present at the meeting was that although this appeared to be encroachment of the federal government, there appeared to be no alternative. Foster Cook, Hamlin school superintendent, said it was his understanding that all school programs eventually would come through this area organization.

J. E. Brown of Neinda said that they have been told that unless the county is a member of this group or has a county planning committee, the Neinda Water District can not qualify for a federal grant and loan to build their water system.

Vernor Lovvorn represented the Stamford School District at the meeting. Jurge Thurman said he had received a telephone call from Woodie Beene, new superintendent who is still in Canadian, urging that the county become a member of the organization.

Plans for the Oilbelt District Student Council Workshop, which will be held in November at Abilene High School, were discussed. The Hamlin council will lead a group discussion on parliamentary procedure at the workshop.

The Hamlin group also announced its plans to run for the vice presidency of the Oilbelt District Student Council Association. The election will be held during the workshop.

Milburn Wink, local vocational agriculture teacher who sponsors the student council, accompanied the group to Abilene.

MRS. E. M. WILSON . . . gets lifetime membership

In the absence of Mrs. Ned Moore who is ill, Mrs. Britton presided. The president's address was given by Mrs. I. R. Witt, the response by Mrs. Jno Howard Jr. and the year books were reviewed by Mrs. Britton, year book chairman. Thirty members and one guest attended.

Mrs. Wilson was born in Florence, Ala., and moved to Hamlin in December, 1909. She was married to E. M. Wilson Jan. 15, 1913.

Much of her time has been spent in doing for others and in 1918 she was chairman of the Red Cross during the time when bandages were being made here.

In 1924 she organized the first Parent-Teachers Association and was the first president.

She joined the First Methodist Church in 1910 and was instrumental in the organization of the King's Daughters' Sunday School class. She was a S.S. teacher and also served as president of the Women's Society of Christian Service.

Mrs. Wilson was a member of the school board for four years and for 10 years she was head of the Chamber of Commerce.

In 1962 she retired as owner of the Book Shop. She now enjoys knitting as a hobby.

She has one daughter, Mrs. John D. (Elmo Joy) Ferguson, and two grandchildren, John and Jane Ferguson.

with the way the boys played in spite of having so many to miss the game. He said that although the boys made a number of mistakes he thought most of this was because five boys were playing in new positions.

MOVE in the RIGHT DIRECTION

To attend Church is the first step in finding God.
To attend regularly is to continue in the right direction, and gives one an opportunity to understand God's will in his life. Now is the time to make your move. Choose the way that will lead you to God.
Attend Church Sunday.

The Church is God's appointed agency in this world
for spreading the knowledge of His love for man and of His demand for man to respond to that love by loving his neighbor. Without this grounding in the love of God, no government or society or way of life
will long persevere and the freedoms which we hold so dear will inevitably perish. Therefore, even from a selfish point of view, one should support the Church
for the sake of the welfare of himself and his family.
Beyond that, however, every person should uphold
and participate in the Church because it tells the truth about man's life, death and destiny; the truth which alone will set him free to live as a child of God.

PIPER PATTERN—

Robert Moore to Head New Student Council Officers

By Tommy Oliver
Helen Moore
Beth Craig
The bewildered look is now disappearing from the faces of the freshmen, and the first-year typing classes have picked up their pace from a beginner's peck to a more professional tap.

"Como esta usted?" seems to be on the lips of all the first-year Spanish students as they are now beginning to speak Spanish in simple sentences and short conversations.

What was that noise last Thursday night in the gym? Yes, you guessed it — that was our high school band putting in their first of many long hours working up their half-time performance. The heavy rains had stopped the band from marching on the football field, but the rains did not stop the Marching Green. Into the gym the band went and with a "tweep, tweep" from Margaret Johnson, the band went through its half-time show.

Robert Moore heads the list of new officers for the Student Council, with Randy Smith as vice president. Other officers are Helen Moore, treasurer; Margaret Johnson, secretary; and Reba Jackson, reporter. Mr. Milburn Wink is sponsor.

The annual staff has had good results from its campaign to sell ads to the local merchants. Annual sales for the 1967 Piper are to begin this Thursday. School pictures will be taken on Thursday by Blackstock of Stamford.

Our welcome this week is to Janice Hardaway and Mark Jones. Interest should pick up in the First Methodist Church, Janice, a five-foot-six brunette is a part of the new pastor's family. Music and swimming are her hobbies.

Mark Jones is a tall, brown-eyed boy with blond hair and an interest in working on cars. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ed Jones, are employed by Bell Telephone Company at Abilene. Mark, a transfer from Abilene High, finds he likes a smaller school because of its friendly atmosphere.

Mr. and Mrs. Bob Craig attended the annual Ad Meet of the Texas Press Association held in Kerrville. Craig is a member of the board of the TPA and attended the board meeting Friday morning. Ace Reid, creator of Cow Pokes, was host for a barbecue Friday evening. Some 250 members and wives attended the ad meeting and were guests at Camp Rio Vista, a boys camp, for a barbecue. Following a guided tour of the Y-O Ranch Sunday a western meal was served at ranch headquarters.

FAIRVIEW NEWS...

By Mrs. Elmer Joiner
If you have been wondering what became of the Fairview News the past two issues of the paper, here we are back again. Spent ten days in the hospital, had surgery, which after a certain age, isn't the funniest thing in the world, but do believe I am going to make it back into the world of reality again.

When you have trained your ears to listen for news, you hear things that other people do not notice, so that first few days of being so sick and not caring what happened just so I got to feeling better, it seemed I heard more news than I did. Knowing I could not report it I couldn't help noticing how many things were going on and now that I am ready to write again, don't have much to tell. Could tell you all about my operation and all of my aches and pains, but have learned a long time ago that is the most boring news the other fellow can hear, no matter how interesting it is to you.

It seems the most talked about subject right now is all of the rain we have been having. It has been a long time since we have had a late summer like it, the only thing real good about it is the cool weather, such wonderful sleeping nights and cool days, but when the sun does venture out it is a beautiful sight. Weeds are growing by leaps and bounds every day. They do not have to have sunshine to grow, every where you look they are getting bigger and bigger.

Mrs. Woodrow Goodwin spent from Friday until Wednesday, which was Sept. 2 till 7, in the Hendrick Hospital in Abilene, with a bladder infection. She is doing fairly well but will have to go back for six weeks for treatments.

Rev. and Mrs. Babb visited last Thursday night with the Goodwins and Joiners. Makes it hard on them for so many of their members to be ill, for they really believe in seeing after their little flock.

We learned that Rev. Redden resigned the Tuxedo church, his last Sunday being Sept. 4. They, like most of the rural churches, have lost most of the people that once lived around so their membership is very low. They have not quit. If they can get a pastor they are going to keep on as long as possible. We know their feelings, it is so heart-breaking to close the doors to a church you have loved and

Bids, Legals P

The City Of Hamlin, Texas
Hollis W. Madden, Mayor

worshiped in so long, especially one that used to be a strong Baptist Church.

Mr. and Mrs. Henry went to Rule, Sunday after church, to eat lunch with a sister-in-law, Mrs. Mary Sue Henry, who is to have surgery real soon.

Mr. and Mrs. R. E. Ray, Anson, visited in our home Friday night. They had both bad and good news to report from their family. Mrs. I. B. Ray had been in the Anson Hospital, having trouble with a heart ailment, was better but with a definite order to "slow down", which is hard on anyone that enjoys going and doing things that she does.

They told of his sister, Mrs. Lois Hampton, being so much better recently. She had quite a lot of trouble with her bad leg, but that had cleared up and she is feeling much better in every way.

Our sympathy goes to the family of Mrs. Harris Feagan, who passed away last weekend. Having lived next door neighbors to them in the Neinda vicinity, for fifteen years, we felt a personal loss of an old and dear friend.

It seems that Bryce Fowler, Hamlin, was a visitor in Sunday School, coming with his cousin, Tommy Gabriel.

Rev. and Mrs. Babb were Sunday afternoon visitors of Mr. and Mrs. Bowen, of the Tuxedo community, Sunday afternoon.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Ford carried their daughter, Nancy, to Denton, over the weekend where she will continue in her studies there.

Henry Kee, of Lubbock, stopped by Sunday afternoon, for a visit with the Elmer Joiners, on his way to Tye for a transport load of gasoline, which he hauls to Lubbock. He reports his wife doing as well as could be, after having surgery for gall stones, on Aug. 24. Since she had serious surgery only in February, this made it hard, but she is doing well, so looks like she has another operation liked.

Although it has been two weeks, we still want to report on the death of Thomas Moss, of Anson, who was a nephew of Fred Rosenbaum. Mr. Moss had been an invalid since being injured in a freak accident in the Anson post office some time ago.

Just wish to say in ending that I wish to extend my heartfelt thanks to all of my friends that were so nice to remember me with cards, visits, and other showing of friendship, when I was in the hospital and since coming home. When you are ill that is all you have to cling to is loved ones and friends, and they mean so much, makes you so ashamed of how negligent you have been, but hoping to do better.

Texas Ranger Museum Being Planned

Austin — The Texas Department of Public Safety is interested in securing authentic objects used by former Texas Rangers at any period in history to be permanently placed in a public museum being developed at Department Headquarters in Austin.

Col. Homer Garrison, Jr., DPS Director and Chief of the Texas Rangers, asked anyone interested in contributing such items as guns, knives, belts, badges, spurs or any other authentic Ranger items not completely deteriorated, to write him at Box 4087, NAS, Austin, Texas 78751.

"We are attempting to preserve for posterity in this museum a top-flight collection of Ranger mementos to symbolize the glorious tradition of the oldest police force on the North American continent with statewide jurisdiction," Garrison said.

"We feel that this museum can provide an invaluable service for the State of Texas by commemorating for present and future generations the historic bravery of the Texas Rangers in preserving law and order and protecting the people of Texas from frontier days through the space age."

Garrison said the museum is to be established at a central location in the Department of Public Safety Headquarters and will be opened for public viewing upon its completion, the date of which has not yet been determined.

STATE CAPITAL

Highlights
AND Sidelights
by Vern Sanford

TEXAS PRESS ASSOCIATION

Austin — While most of the state welcomed the touch of cool rains last week, Texas Water Development Board lost all hopes of completing the Texas Water Plan by the time the Legislature opens January 10.

Board will take from four months to a year before it acts on adoption of the preliminary Texas Water Plan due to the scores of suggestions received from a series of river basin hearings.

All suggestions must be screened even before the Board can refer the plan to Texas Water Rights Commission for a public hearing on Water Rights involved.

A panel of five consultants, headed by Joe M. Kilgore, has gone over a list of proposed studies prepared by the Board's planning staff. The panel will present their suggestions to the Board at a meeting on September 19. Mainly, these will cover which studies can be made within the money available to the agency during the fiscal year.

Another water study by the Development Board, to determine the occurrence and quality of underground water in Shackelford County, will begin in mid-September, Executive Director Joe G. Moore announced.

Richard Preston, a water development board geologist, will conduct the study, which will begin with an inventory and sampling of all domestic, municipal, livestock, irrigation

and industrial wells in the county.

Study will then move on to the collection and compilation of data regarding depth, distribution and quality of underground water. Surface and shallow subsurface rock formations will also be examined as an aid in determining the depth and mode of occurrence of ground water requiring surface casing protection in oil and gas drilling operations.

Texas Water Rights Commission has approved an amendment to the permit held by Trinity River Authority and the City of Houston which would nearly triple the storage capacity of the proposed Wallisville Reservoir. But another public hearing will be called to reconsider the application, if the federal government does not confirm its participation within a year.

More Money — Mounting demands of higher education in Texas seem certain to force a tax increase by the Legislature which meets in January.

Budget requests for the 22 state colleges are almost doubled those of the current two years, in large part because of a need for "catching up". Coordinating Board, Texas College and University System, says that the previous practice of providing money based on past enrollments just won't work. Cash should be provided for the 22 state colleges and the 34 junior colleges on the basis of what their enrollments will be, instead of what they were.

Junior colleges, fast growing as they are, will be some $16-

000,000 short of operating money during the current two years. It will take $100,000,000 to put senior college appropriations on a current basis.

Prospects for a surplus in the state treasury of $75-$80, 000,000 have led to talk of increasing college tuition and fees, so students would pay more of the cost.

Appointments — Governor Connally appointed Billy Gene Compton, senior Amerillo corporation court judge, district attorney for Potter and Armstrong Counties. He is a native of Borge and attended Pampa schools. Compton replaces Dee Miller, who resigned to campaign for Congressional seat left open when U. S. Rep. Walter Rodgers of Pampa decided not to run again.

Dr. Luther L. Bailey was named project director by State Interagency Policy Board, appointed by the governor to conduct statewide planning for vocational rehabilitation.

Connally named Maj. Gen. Harley B. West of Dallas to command the Texas State Guard.

George Campbell Heads Grand Jury

George E. Campbell of Hamlin is foreman of the grand jury in 104th District Court at Anson. The jury was sworn in Thursday by Judge Ben Charlie Chapman, sitting for Judge Owen Thomas.

Others on the jury are: Mrs. Norman Sloan, Hawley; Luis Ramirez, Anson; Mrs. John Youngquist, Rt. 2, Stamford; Vada Rubick, Anson; Albert Evans, Rt. 1, Merkel; Mrs. Frankie Cassle, Hamlin; P. B. Middlebrook, Jr., Anson; Mrs. H. H. Windham; Robert Horn, Stamford; Jackie W. Williams, Rt. 1, Hamlin, and Mrs. W. J. Byrd, Rt. 1, Avoca.

SYLVESTER NEWS...

By Mrs. R. M. Babb
My, the words one hears now is, do you think it will ever stop raining? Now really it won't be long before they Pursley and Mr. and Mrs. Horner Pursley drove to Andrews last Monday to visit Pete Pursley and wife Annie, who is quite ill.

Oh, by the way have you seen the Homer Pursley's new Chevrolet? Pretty, huh?

Mrs. W. B. Brown and myself attended the Postal meeting at Wyatt's in Abilene last Saturday night and gained knowledge on some postal problems. Mr. Jack Staples, Inspector in Charge in Ft. Worth spoke and answered questions. Miss Lula Hassey of Tye went with us.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Self have moved to Carrollton near Stephenville so Bobby can attend Tarleton College in Stephenville. Tommy and Gloria and daughter are living in the Self home here.

Our young people are beginning to start college again. Connie Beck, Susan Scott are to attend Texas Tech in Lubbock. John Hardwick will attend McMurry in Abilene. Lee Lanning will return to A. M. in College Station.

Mr. J. E. Woodson is spending a few days with his daughter, Ruth Brown.

We were sorry to learn of the death of the grandson of Loyce Smith, the Smiths lived here many years.

Mr. and Mrs. V. Elliott of Sweetwater visited in the Med Herron home this past week. The Woodford Pursleys drove to Big Spring over the

Editor's note: The Neinda Philosopher on his Johnson grass farm on Route 1 is out of his field this week, but weekend to check on their son-in-law who was in the hospital. They report he is doing much better.

that's his problem.

Dear editor:

Since a man can't spend all his thinking time thinking about international problems, and since every newspaper I've picked out here lately has been devoting more and more space to the new football season, from high school through college to the professionals, I have returned to a problem I've been working on for several years now.

It is: how can football be arranged so, after a game, everybody on both sides comes away happy? Like it is now out of the thousands of games played every weekend, fifty percent of the people always leave the stadium sad, except in a case of a tie. No game, like no politician, can last if it can't make more than half the people happy.

My friends in town who are experts on the game say it can't be done, that there's no way for both sides to win, but I can't imagine a Great Society where only half the people come away from any event week after week happy. Who wants to settle for just 50 percent of a Great Society?

Therefore I have devoted considerable thought to this problem the last few days and while I haven't quite worked out a system where all unhappiness will be eliminated, I have cut it down to only 10 percent.

Like it is now, the average team plays 10 games, one a week for 10 weeks, with 50 percent of the fans being saddened every week. I can cut this to 10 percent.

It's simple. Don't have any winners or losers every week. Wait till the end of the season. Meanwhile keep running scores. At the end of the 10 weeks, add up the scores, and the teams with the most total points wins. All the tears are thus put in one bucket. Not scattered out over the whole season. If some team beat you this week by 6 points, you figure on beating the next team by 12, and thus getting back in the running. You can see how this will improve scoring.

I am glad to make this contribution, and will now devote my thoughts to other problems. As a matter of fact, I have settled the Viet Nam problem several times, but the people over there don't seem to pay any attention to it.

Yours faithfully,
J. A.

heated part of the conversation, she had noticed that in his haste to put on his trousers he had failed to zip everything shut. She called his attention to the fact and he, in an offhand, abstract manner, zipped the zipper — and unnoticed, also zipped in a part of the table cloth.

As the couple arose to leave he turned — and promptly jerked the table cloth and all the dishes off the table.

Embarrassing minutes later, the couple piled into their car — and he promptly turned the car, camper, and wife toward Andrews with the words:

"Any vacation that starts out like this one can't possibly be any good... we're going home before someone gets killed."
